Definitions for Health Care Benefits, Veterans Independence Program, and Long Term Care

Effective Date: April 1, 2019

Accommodation and meals (A&M) contribution

Accommodation and meals (A&M) contribution means the amount of the A&M rate, if any, that a client is required to pay monthly while residing in an approved health care facility.

Accommodation and meals (A&M) rate

Accommodation and meals (A&M) rate means the maximum monthly amount that can be charged to a client while residing in an approved health care facility. This rate is calculated annually by the Department, and it is based on either the lowest provincial monthly charge for accommodation and meals permitted under the Canada Health Act or the percentage of increase in the Consumer Price Index, whichever is less.

Active service

Active service means the military status assigned (in accordance with the National Defence Act) whenever a person is enrolled, enlisted, drafted or warned for service or duty during an emergency, or when a person is on duty, or has been warned for duty in aid of the civil power.

Activities of daily living

Activities of daily living means self-administered care, including eating, dressing, washing/bathing, grooming, toileting, walking, etc.

Administrative error

Administrative error refers to any error, the fault of which cannot reasonably be attributed to the client.

Adult residential care

Adult residential care means a service provided in a health care facility to meet a Type I health need.

A-line coverage

A-line coverage means the provision of benefits, services or care under the Veterans Health Care Regulations that are required by an eligible client as a result of a health condition for which disability benefits entitlement has been granted.

Allied veteran

Allied veteran means a person who meets the service requirements described in subsection 37(4), (4.1) or (4.2) of the War Veterans Allowance Act, namely:

any former member of

- a) any of His Majesty's forces,
- b) any of the forces, other than resistance groups, of any of His Majesty's allies,
- c) any of the forces, other than resistance groups, of any power associated with His Majesty in World War I, or

- c.1) any of the forces that took part in the Korean War who was domiciled in Canada at the time when he or she joined that force or at any time while a member of that force, and
- d) served in a theatre of actual war during World War I or World War II,
- d.1) served in a theatre of operations during the Korean War,
- e) is in receipt of a pension for disability under the Pension Act in respect of service during World War I or World War II as those wars are defined in that Act,
- f) has accepted a commuted pension in respect of service described in paragraph (e),
- g) is, after death, declared to have been eligible for, or awarded, a pension described in paragraph (e) above, or
- h) served in the United Kingdom during World War I.

An allied veteran is also any former member of any of His Majesty's forces, or of any of the forces, other than resistance groups, of any of His Majesty's allies in World War II, who served during that war, who resided in Canada for a total period of at least 10 years beginning on or after August 15, 1945, who has been honourably discharged or has been permitted honourably to resign or retire from one of those forces and who

- a) served in a theatre of actual war during that war;
- b) is in receipt of a pension for an injury or disease incurred or aggravated during service in any such force during that war or is declared to have been eligible for, or awarded, such a pension subsequent to their death; or,
- c) has accepted a commuted pension.

An allied veteran is also any former member of any of the forces that took part in the Korean War and who served during that war, who resided in Canada for a total period of at least 10 years beginning on or after July 27, 1953, who has been honourably discharged or has been permitted honourably to resign or retire from one of those forces and who served in a theatre of operations during that war.

Ambulatory health care

Ambulatory health care means services such as health assessments, diagnostic services, and social and recreational services (e.g. adult day care) provided by, or under the supervision of, a health professional, and includes transportation between the client's residence and the health centre where the services are provided.

Assistive listening devices

Assistive listening devices are instruments used to enhance a person's ability to hear in complex listening situations. These devices include closed captioning devices, FM systems, in-line telephone amplification, personalized amplification devices, signaling device systems, television systems and TTY telephones/VCO telephones.

B-line coverage

B-line coverage means, generally, the benefits available to clients, other than disability benefits recipients, to the extent that the benefits are not available to them as insured services under a provincial health care system. The eligibility for this type of coverage is often linked to the client meeting an income test or qualifying for the Veterans Independence Program (VIP).

Benefit Arrangement
Benefit Arrangement sets out the dollar amount that the Department may contribute toward the provision of Veterans Independence Program (VIP) service(s), and the length of time during which the services may be provided.
